MEMORANDUM FOR: FP/CPS/C/TR

SUBJECT: Mutual Security Act of 1957

1. The possibility of making use of the President's special fund has been discussed in FE Division, and the following suggestions are considered worthy of note:

a. Japan - The necessity of educating Japanese as to methods which might be used to reclaim non-arable land to commercial advantage has been the objective of the Kiyosato Educational Experimental Project (KEEP). Founded by Dr. Paul Rusch, U.S. citizen and former G-2 officer on duty in Japan, the project was begun in Yamanashi Prefecture in 1948 on 850 acres of unreclaimed land, located at some 300 feet above rice-growing level. The project now includes more than 300 milk producing Jersey cattle, an area creamery cooperative, a milk collection truck system, and an extensive experimental farm. Through application of the principles demonstrated at KEEP, it is estimated that fully 6 million acres of land not now under cultivation could be reclaimed. That this would assist in solving a portion of Japan's food problem is unquestionable. Also involved in KEE is an established rural library available to all, a rural clinic with a 20-bed hospital, and an Episcopal church, although Dr. Rusch makes it clear that there are no religious overtones to the project. Plans have been made for a vocational institute, where the principles involved in the founding of KEEP may be made available to those interested in imitating the KEEP pattern. $100,000 would do much toward strengthening the project, and making more widespread the concepts which have gone into its establishment. The objectives of KEEP parallel those of the United States in that they work toward an economically sound Japan.

b. Indonesia - U.S. appropriations formerly available for training Indonesian Army Officers in the United States are not included in the FY 1958 budget. This activity is very worthwhile, particularly in the present situation in Indonesia. Since the Fulbright amendment authorizes the use of the special fund for assistance to schools "abroad," it may not be possible to include this program which FE Division believes should be continued.

c. Operation Brotherhood - Among the functions carried on at the present time by OB teams in Laos is that of training Laotians in the fields of nursing, first aid and public health, agricultural methods, home economics, social work, and village public work in addition to their primary medical aid program. These functions were initiated in an attempt to raise the educational, economic, and social level of Lao people, and is directly related to a request by ICA to utilize Filipino members of OB teams in Laos to take advantage of the Asian-to-Asian concept which has been found more acceptable in the SEA area than direct U.S. participation in training programs. The use of the President's special fund for OB is appropriate since OB carries out an educational function, exhibits the benefits of a democratic government, and was founded, sponsored, and indirectly funded by U.S. citizens and the U.S. Government. The sum of $250,000 is required for FY 1958 to pay salaries, transportation costs, insurance, etc. of the Filipino members of the OB teams in Laos. If this amount could be made available for covert insertion into OB, CIA would be relieved from financing a basically overt operation.

2. Several additional projects have been discussed in FE Division but are not included in the above suggestions for various reasons. If, at a later date, it is deemed appropriate to request use of the President's special fund for them, a memorandum will be forwarded. Further, this Division believes that field stations should be informed of the amendment to the Mutual Security Act of 1957, and if there is no plan for a Book Dispatch, FE Division would like to circulate the information through its own system of field notices.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director (Plans)

SUBJECT: Topics of Possible Discussion with U. S. Ambassador to Laos, J. Graham Parsons

9-7474

1. We have summarized below for consideration of the Director of Central Intelligence topics of possible discussion with the U.S. Ambassador to Laos, The Honorable J. Graham Parsons, on 4 October.
2. Operation Brotherhood. While the base unit and four provincial teams continue activities as before, Operation Brotherhood is being partially integrated with the Civic Action program to provide medical instruction to Civic Action personnel. ICA budgeted to cover most of the costs of this activity in FY 1958 but has not yet determined the exact extent of its support, pending recommendations from ICA/Laos on the breakdown of funds for the various projects within its overall Laos budget. (Ambassador Parsons' influence over ICA/Laos planning is, of course, singularly important.) FE Division's budget for this program is near depletion. FE Division has maintained that support of Operation Brotherhood is not clearly within the scope of CIA responsibilities.
3. Civic Action. Of the first four teams graduated from the Civic Action Training School, one is in the field and the others were scheduled for assignment in September 1957, including one to each of the disputed provinces of Phong Saly and Sam Neua. The second training class of 90 students is in process. ICA has provided for most of the costs of this program in its FY 1958 budget but, as with Operation Brotherhood, the extent of projected support has not yet been defined. Although CIA accepted action responsibility for the formative stages of Civic Action, FE Division believes that this program, like Operation Brotherhood, should not be sustained largely by CIA and has advised Vientiane Station to proceed with an orderly transfer to ICA of support responsibilities for both programs, in accordance with previous understanding.
4. Auto-Defense. Progress in Auto-Defense activities has been retarded of late by the confinement of operations to defensive action, in response to Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma's policy, and by CIA personnel problems, which have reduced the CIA team assigned to this project. FE Division is seeking a ranking officer to direct this program and to make maximum advantage otherwise of the fine relationship established by the Vientiane Station with the Lao Army Chief of Staff and his deputies.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA : Deputy Director (Plans)

SUBJECT : Operation BROTHERHOOD, Laos

1. This memorandum is for information only. Particular reference is made to paragraph 3.

2. Operation BROTHERHOOD was initiated in Laos in January 1957 in response to a request of the Royal Lao Government, transmitted by the Lao Junior Chamber of Commerce, to the Philippine Junior Chamber of Commerce. CIA is providing funds covertly in Laos and through the Philippine Junior Chamber of Commerce to finance the program through FY 57. The Country Team in Laos has recommended that the program be continued, and ICA is tentatively budgeting funds for the support of the program during FY 58. The ICA funds, which are contingent upon final ICA approval and Congressional appropriation, would cover the costs of medical supplies and equipment in Laos while CIA would continue to pay salaries, certain expenses and travel of Philippine and other personnel involved.

3. FE Division finds, on the basis of recent-cost data, that the Agency is in a position to extend its support of the operation by utilizing currently allocated FY 57 funds and the sum of $100,000 which is included in the FY 58 FE Division Operational Program for this activity. These funds, [redacted] permit us now to authorize the extension of Operation BROTHERHOOD at its present level through the first quarter of FY 58, pending Congressional and ICA decisions concerning ICA support during FY 58. On 1 September 1957, if ICA funds are not available, it will be necessary to decide whether (a) CIA should continue to carry the full financing of the operation (at the approximate rate [redacted] per month) or (b) phase out CIA support over a three-month period, for
